

How to Place an Order with Young Living

Young Living is the only company I know in the world that is growing from seed, harvesting, distilling, formulating, packaging and marketing their own essential oils along with educating in their use and application. They are grown without pesticides and are tested in 5 independent labs before they ever reach packaging. If an oil batch does not pass for 100% purity and has the proper levels of constituents in all 5 tests, it will not be sold (a colleague of mine personally witnessed this.) The founder wants the purest oils for himself and humankind, for only the purest can have the greatest therapeutic effects.

Even if you don't plan to sell Essential Oils, I highly recommend you sign up as a distributor anyway. You will save a lot of money on your own oils. Young Living is the best and most reliable oils I have found. The only additional cost of being a distributor is you have to purchase an introduction kit of your choice. You can choose the lowest priced kit and it comes with free samples, DVDs, and more. The kit is $40 and you get a coupon for $40 off a diffuser. Otherwise, you can order through me.
